

CASE STUDY: community engagement

Play Park sign competition

Our Plymouth office ran a Play Park competition at the Monterey Park Estate that we manage.

Stephanie Richardson, Senior Property Manager at the Plymouth office advertised the competition just before the summer holidays inviting the children of Monterey Park to design a 'No Fouling' and 'No Littering' sign with a deadline of September (plenty of time to get creative over the summer).

The prize was a £20 gift voucher. The winners were Jasmine, aged 10 and Elise aged 7. The posters have now been made into a sign which was unveiled in December. Both girls were very excited to have their artwork printed and a permenant fixture in the estate that they live in.

With this being a success Stephanie will be rolling it out to other developments managed by the Plymouth office to encourage more involvement from residents and to make them feel part of a community.

Stephanie said; "I enjoyed running the competition and feel great that it was a success."

Client statement

"Remus are always a pleasure to work with. They know what TW want/need and deliver every time. I have always found Remus to be responsive, competitive and easy to work with. I consider them for all of our schemes coming forward."

David Burns, Senior Land Manager, Taylor Wimpey

remus.uk.com

